

Patrick Connor Bowling

Patrick Connor, 54, has been on his Special Olympics Pennsylvania bowling team for more than 10 years. He also swims and plays volleyball and when he's not playing sports he loves to watch football, basketball and baseball.

Patrick proudly lives alone in his own apartment and in his free time enjoys cars, taking walks, bike riding and helping other people. Since joining Special Olympics, he's made many friends and gained confidence in himself and in his ability to play sports competitively.

IN HIS WORDS

“ [This opportunity] means that I get to compete with the best players, do my best and have a good time. ”
