

Athlete Leadership University Registration Information

Saturday, June 23rd-Sunday, June 24th at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Address: 1011 South Drive, Indiana, PA 15705.

Courses offered: Athletes as Coach and Healthy Lifestyles.

The Special Olympics athlete is capable of pursuing leadership opportunities beyond competition. All athletes have the ability to become a Certified Coach and Health and Fitness Coordinator.

Athlete Leadership University will model a typical university progression. PLEDGE is required for all majors (i.e., Sports and Health are “majors”). When PLEDGE is completed, the course does not need to be repeated for another major. If your Athlete Leadership University attendees have not yet completed PLEDGE, they should be attending on Saturday morning from 10:00 AM-12:00 PM

All Athlete Leadership University attendees require a mentor to attend. The cost for each local program will be $100.00 per team (1 athlete and 1 mentor) to help offset the costs of training. Local programs will be billed at the completion of the Athlete Leadership University session. If a local program cancels less than 24 hours prior to arrival, they will still be billed at the completion of the session

Course Descriptions:

- PLEDGE: This is a broad introduction to Special Olympics, Athlete Leadership and Athlete Leadership University.

Purpose
Leadership
Education
Development
Growth
Empowerment

- Mentor: Whether you're an experienced mentor or this is your first time mentoring an Athlete Leader, this training will help you learn and understand your role in helping athletes reach their full potential as a leader within your Local Program and Special Olympics Pennsylvania.
- Sports Major- Athletes as Coaches: A non-sports specific training to help athletes that currently are or want to become certified coaches make the transition from competitor to a coach.
  - Expectations following course completion: Following course completion, each athlete is expected (not required) to undertake a two year commitment to seek Special Olympics coach certification at the highest level. The following levels of continuing education are available:
    - Attend a Training School to receive Skills Certification

- Take an online course called “Continuing Education Training” every three years to maintain certification
  - Once certified, athletes will work with their mentor to develop goals to gradually gain more responsibilities in the sport(s) they coach.
- Health Major- Healthy Lifestyles: This not only focuses on the Healthy Athlete initiative offered at State Competitions, but also training athletes to promote better health and wellness in their local program and education on personal bests.
  - Expectations following course completion: Following course completion, each athlete is expected to become a Health and Fitness Coordinator within their local program. A Health and Fitness Coordinator and mentor are responsible for:
    - Creating a year round fitness club
      - ❖ Example: Walking club at a local park led by athletes for athletes, unified partners and families
    - Helping the local program partner with health and fitness organizations
      - ❖ Example: Local YMCA with reduced rates
    - Providing healthy menu input at local competitions
  - It is highly recommended for the Health and Fitness Coordinator to be an active member on the Athlete Leadership Team (ALT) within their local program.
  - The Health and Fitness Coordinator is not a member of the local program management team, however may be asked to report out on an as needed basis.
